Our Privacy Notice

Before we begin

This notice (Privacy Notice) applies to personal information held by members of the HSBC Group as data controllers, as described below.

It explains what information we collect about you, how we'll use that information, who we'll share it with, the circumstances when we'll share it and what steps we'll take to make sure it stays private and secure.

It continues to apply even if your agreement for banking, insurance or other products and services with us ends.

It should also be read alongside your banking and insurance terms and conditions, as these include sections relating to the use and disclosure of information.

This Privacy Notice covers any personal products or services you have with us, including current accounts, savings, loans, credit cards, mortgages, investments and insurance. Sometimes we may need to provide you with separate or further information about specific products and services. This information will also apply. If you also have a relationship with other parts of the HSBC Group, for example, HSBC personal or business banking, M&S Bank or HSBC in any other countries, they'll provide you with information separately where required.

Some of the links on our websites lead to other HSBC UK or non-HSBC UK websites with their own privacy notices, which may be different to this notice. You'll need to make sure you're happy with their privacy notices when using those other sites.

Wherever we've said 'you' or 'your', this means:

- you
- any authorised person on your account
- anyone who does your banking or deals with us for you, for example, trustees, executors or attorneys under a Power of Attorney
- other related people, for example, authorised signatories, partners, members and trustees
- if you're an insurance customer, it also means you, named insureds or beneficiaries under your policy, dependants, claimants and other third parties involved in an insurance policy or claim, such as witnesses.

When we say 'we', we mean first direct, which is a division of HSBC UK Bank plc, who is the data controller for your personal data.

The following HSBC Group companies will act as a data controller where you hold a product or service with them: HSBC Life (UK) Limited, HSBC Trust Company (UK) Limited, HSBC Executor and Trustee Company (UK) Limited, Trustees of The HSBC Self-Invested Personal Pension, The address for the HSBC Group companies set out in this notice is 1 Centenary Square, Birmingham B1 1HQ. If you'd like to get in touch with us, you can also find our contact details on the back of this document.

What information we collect

We'll only collect your information in line with relevant regulations and law. We may collect it from a range of sources and it may relate to any of our products or services you apply for, currently hold or have held in the past. We may also collect information about you when you interact with us, for example, via Online, Mobile or Phone Banking.

Some of it will come directly from you, for example, when you provide identification to open an account. It can also come from your financial advisor, broker or mortgage intermediary, other HSBC companies, the insurance company which provides the insurance policies we offer or other sources you've asked us to get it from. We might also get some of it from publicly available sources.

The type of information we collect will differ depending on the type of product you hold.

The information we collect may include:

Information you provide to us, for example:

- personal details, for example, name, previous names, gender, date and place of birth
- contact details, for example, your postal address, email address, and telephone numbers
- information concerning your identity, for example, photo identification, passport information, National Insurance number, National ID card and nationality
- market research, for example, information and opinions expressed when participating in market research
- user login and subscription details, for example, login credentials for Online, Mobile or Phone Banking
- other information you give us by filling in forms or by communicating with us, whether by phone, email, online, or in other ways.

Information we collect or provide about you, for example:

- your financial information and your relationship with us, including the products and services you hold, the channels you use and your ways of interacting with us, your ability to get and manage your credit, your payment history, transactions records, market trades, payments into your account including salary details and information concerning complaints and disputes
- information we use to identify and authenticate you, for example, your signature and your biometric information (like your voice for Voice ID) or additional information we receive from external sources that we need for compliance purposes
- geographic information, for example, about which branches or cash machines you use
- information included in customer documentation, for example, a record of advice that we may have given you
- marketing and sales information, for example, details of the services you receive and your preferences
- information about your device or the software you use, for example, its IP address, technical specification and uniquely identifying data

Information we collect or generate about you (cont.), for example:

- cookies and similar technologies we use to recognise you, remember your preferences and tailor the content we provide to you – our cookie policy contains more details about how we use cookies and can be found at firstdirect.com/cookies
- risk rating information, for example, credit risk rating, transactional behaviour and underwriting information
- details of investigations, for example, due diligence checks, sanctions and anti-money laundering checks, external intelligence reports, content and metadata related to relevant exchanges of information between and among individuals, organisations, including emails, voicemail, live chat etc
- records of correspondence and other communications between us, for example, email, live chat, instant messages and social media communications
- information that we need to support our regulatory obligations, for example, information about transaction details, detection of any suspicious and unusual activity and information about parties connected to you or these activities.

Information we collect from other sources, for example:

- information you've asked us to collect for you, for example, information about your accounts or holdings with other companies including transaction information
- information from third party providers, for example, information that helps us to combat fraud or that relates to your social interactions, such as your communications via social media, between individuals, organisations, prospects and other stakeholders acquired from companies that collect combined information).

If our relationship arises out of an insurance policy or claim, we may also collect:

- information relating to your insurance application where you apply for a policy via a comparison website or aggregator
- information relating to any insurance claim you make from the insurer – which may include information relevant to the claim.

How we'll use your information

We'll only use your information where we have your consent or we have another lawful reason for using it. These reasons include where we:

- need to pursue our legitimate interests
- need to process the information to enter into or carry out an agreement we have with you
- need to process the information to comply with a legal obligation
- believe the use of your information as described is 'in the public interest', for example, for the purpose of preventing or detecting crime
- need to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights
- need to use your information for insurance purposes.

The reasons we use your information include to:

- deliver our products and services
- carry out your instructions, for example, to fulfil a payment request or make a change to your insurance policy
- carry out credit checks
- manage our relationship with you, including telling you about products and services we think may be relevant for you (unless you ask us not to)
- understand how you use your accounts and services
- support banking operations
- prevent or detect crime including fraud and financial crime, for example, financing for terrorism and human trafficking
- ensure security and business continuity
- carry out risk management
- provide Online and Mobile Banking, mobile apps and other online product platforms
- market our products and services to you, and to people like you, for example, through traditional and online advertising
- improve our products and services, including through analysing how you use them
- carry out data analytics to better understand your circumstances and preferences so we can make sure we can provide you with the best advice and offer you a tailored service
- protect our legal rights and comply with our legal obligations
- correspond with solicitors, surveyors, valuers, other lenders, conveyancers and third party intermediaries
- carry out system or product development and planning, insurance, audit and administration
- recover money which you owe (where you haven't paid for your insurance policy)
- if our relationship arises out of an insurance policy or claim, we'll also use your information to, where relevant, bring a claim against a third party.

There are more details about how we'll use your information in the Appendix below.

How we make decisions about you

We may use automated systems to help us make decisions, for example, when you apply for products and services, to make credit decisions and to carry out fraud and money laundering checks. We may use technology that helps us identify the level of risk involved in customer or account activity, for example, for credit, fraud or financial crime reasons, or to identify if someone else is using your card without your permission.

If you're an insurance customer, we may use automated systems to help us make decisions, for example, to determine whether or not we can offer you insurance and at what price. We may base our decision on factors like health, lifestyle and occupational information, as well as the level of cover being requested.

You may have a right to certain information about how we make these decisions. You may also have a right to request human intervention and to challenge the decision. There's more information about this in the 'Your rights' section below.

Tracking or recording what you say or do

To help keep you and your money safe, we may record details of your interactions with us. We may also record and keep track of conversations you have with us through:

- phone calls
- letters
- emails
- live chats
- video chats and
- any other kinds of communication.

We may use these recordings to check:

- your instructions to us
- assess, analyse and improve our service
- train our people
- manage risk or
- prevent and detect fraud and other crimes.

We may also capture additional information about these interactions, for example, telephone numbers that you call us from and information about the devices or software you use. We use closed circuit television (CCTV) in and around HSBC Group sites and these may collect photos or videos of you or record your voice.

Our website, App and other digital products may also track and record your interactions with them to help:

- keep you safe
- us provide or improve services and features
- keep our services secure
- make your visit more personal or
- support our marketing.

Some tracking is optional. For more details, please refer to our relevant website, app or other digital privacy notices and cookies notices.

Compliance with laws and regulatory obligations

We'll use your information to meet our compliance obligations, to comply with other laws and regulations and to share with regulators and other authorities that HSBC Group companies are subject to. This may include using it to help detect or prevent crime (including terrorism financing, money laundering and other financial crimes). We'll only do this if it's needed to comply with a legal obligation or it's in our legitimate interests and that of others or to prevent or detect unlawful acts.

Marketing

We may use your information to provide you with details about products and services from us, HSBC UK, our partners and other relevant third parties. We may send you marketing messages by post, email, phone, text or messages within Online Banking or through social media. You can change your mind on how you receive marketing messages or choose to stop receiving them at any time by contacting us using the details on the back of this document.

If you ask us not to send you marketing, it may take us a short period of time to update our systems and records to reflect your request, during which time you may continue to receive marketing messages. Even if you tell us not to send you marketing messages, we'll continue to use your contact details to provide you with important information, for example, changes to your terms and conditions or if we need to tell you something to comply with our regulatory obligations.

Market research

We may use your information for market research and to identify trends. Market research agencies acting for us may get in touch with you by post, phone, email or in other ways to invite you to take part in research. We won't invite you to take part in research using a communication method if you've asked us not to get in touch that way. Any responses you provide while participating in market research will be reported back to us anonymously unless you give us permission for your details to be shared.

Facebook

When you use any HSBC Page on Facebook, including the page for first direct, Meta Platforms Ireland Limited (previously known as Facebook Ireland Limited), and HSBC collects HSBC collect information about you. This includes:

- what you click on: if you start a messenger conversation;
- what you view: when you hover over a link or have an event page on screen;
- what you say: like comments or reactions;
- your actions: like sharing or recommending;
- your location: country or region. This is not your precise location unless you have provided this in your user profile and you are logged in;
- your device and internet connection;
- your Facebook profile details and user ID.

HSBC, including first direct, has access to this information to use for reporting, insights and marketing purposes and so does Facebook Meta Platforms Ireland.

This helps HSBC improve our offering on Facebook and create better marketing. HSBC may also see this information if HSBC has communicated with you on Facebook. HSBC does this because it helps us know who we're speaking to.

If you've allowed us to use cookies that support our marketing, HSBC and Facebook Meta Platforms Ireland can collect this information when you use HSBC's site too. To learn more, or to switch this off, please visit our Cookies Notice at hsbc.co.uk/cookie-notice/. You can control which cookies you allow by selecting "Manage Cookies".

Facebook Meta Platforms Ireland is a 'joint controller' with us in law for processing where we collect information about you:

- from your actions on our Facebook page;
- through the Facebook pixel on our website.

We and Facebook Meta Platforms Ireland have agreed to share some responsibilities to protect your personal data, by:

- making sure we each have a legal basis for joint processing;
- honouring your legal rights in respect of your data;
- ensuring security of joint processing.

You can contact HSBC about how we do this. You can also contact Facebook Meta Platforms Ireland about what they do. This includes exercising your legal rights in respect of the data Facebook collects and retains itself.

Further details of how Meta Platforms Ireland Facebook processes your personal information, the legal basis it relies on, your rights and Facebook's their contact details can be found at: facebook.com/about/privacy.

Who we might share your information with

We may share your information with others where it's lawful to do so including where we or they:

- need to in order to provide you with products or services you've requested, for example, fulfilling a payment request
- need to in order to provide you with your insurance policy
- have a public or legal duty to do so, for example, to assist with detecting and preventing fraud, tax evasion and financial crime
- need to in connection with regulatory reporting, litigation or asserting or defending legal rights and interests
- want to send marketing to you or others, as long as you've given your permission, or we/they have a legitimate interest to do so
- have a legitimate business reason for doing so, for example, to manage risk, confirm your identity, enable another company to provide you with services you've requested, or assess your suitability for products and services
- have asked you for your permission to share it, and you've agreed.

We may share your information for these purposes with others including:

- other HSBC Group companies and any sub-contractors, agents or service providers who work for us or provide services to us or other HSBC Group companies (including their employees, sub-contractors, service providers, directors and officers)
- any joint account holders, trustees, beneficiaries or executors
- people who give guarantees or other security for any amounts you owe us
- people you make payments to and receive payments from
- your beneficiaries, intermediaries, correspondent and agent banks, clearing houses, clearing or settlement systems, market counterparties and any companies you hold securities in through us, for example, stocks, bonds or options
- other financial institutions, lenders and holders of security over any property you charge to us, tax authorities, trade associations, credit reference agencies, payment service providers and debt recovery agents
- any fund managers who provide asset management services to you and any brokers who introduce you to us or deal with us for you
- any entity that has an interest in the products or services that we provide to you, including if they take on the risk related to them
- anybody who provides marketing services to us
- any people or companies where required in connection with potential or actual corporate restructuring, merger, acquisition or takeover, including any transfer or potential transfer of any of our rights or duties under our agreement with you
- law enforcement, government, courts, dispute resolution bodies, our regulators, auditors and any party appointed or requested by our regulators to carry out investigations or audits of our activities
- other parties involved in any disputes, including disputed transactions
- fraud prevention agencies who'll also use it to detect and prevent fraud and other financial crime and to confirm your identity
- anyone who provides instructions or operates any of your accounts, products or services for you, for example, Power of Attorney, solicitors, intermediaries etc
- anybody else that we've been instructed to share your information with by either you, a joint account holder or anybody else who provides instructions or operates any of your accounts for you

- our card processing supplier(s) to carry out credit, fraud and risk checks, process your payments, issue and manage your card

If our relationship arises out of an insurance policy or claim, we'll also share your information with:

- other parties involved in providing your insurance policy, for example, the intermediary or the insurer who provides your policy
- third parties involved in the administration of the relevant insurance policy or claim including loss adjusters, claims handlers, private investigators, experts and our advisers
- where relevant, medical experts and rehabilitation providers.

Sharing aggregated or anonymised information

We may share aggregated or anonymised information within and outside of the HSBC Group with partners, for example, research groups, universities or advertisers. You won't be able to be identified from this information, such as, we may share information about general spending trends in the UK to assist in research.

Online advertising

When we advertise our products and services on the internet, we may share your information with our advertising partners. For example, when we use social media for marketing purposes, your information may be shared with the social media platforms so that they can check if you also hold an account with them. If you do, we may ask the advertising partner or social media network:

- to use your information to send our adverts to you, for example, because we think that you might be interested in a new service that we offer
- to exclude you from receiving our adverts, for example, because the advert is for a service that you already use
- to advertise to people who have a similar profile to you, for example, if we discover that one of our services is particularly useful to people with similar interests to the ones on your social media profile, we may ask our advertising partner or the social media network to send our adverts for that service to people who share your interests.

You can contact us to object to us sharing your personal data for online advertising. For more information, see 'Your rights' below. Social media platforms also allow you to indicate your preferences to them about the advertising you receive on their platforms. Please contact your social media platforms for more information.

How long we'll keep your information

We keep your information in line with our data retention policy. For example we'll normally keep your core banking information for a period of 7 years from the end of our relationship with you. This enables us to comply with legal and regulatory requirements or use it where we need to for our legitimate purposes, for example, managing your account and dealing with any disputes or concerns that may arise.

We may need to retain your information for a longer period where we need the information to comply with regulatory or legal requirements or where we may need it for our legitimate purposes, for example, to help us respond to queries or complaints, fighting fraud and financial crime, responding to requests from regulators etc.

If we don't need to keep information for this long we may destroy, delete or anonymise it more quickly.

Transferring your information overseas

Your information may be transferred to and stored in locations outside the United Kingdom or the European Economic Area (EEA), including countries that may not have the same level of protection for personal information. When we do this, we'll ensure it has an appropriate level of protection and that the transfer is lawful. We may need to transfer your information in this way to carry out our contract with you, to fulfil a legal obligation, to protect the public interest and/or for our legitimate interests. In some countries the law might compel us to share certain information, for example, with tax authorities. Even in these cases, we'll only share your information with people who have the right to see it.

You can get more details of the protection given to your information when it's transferred outside the United Kingdom or EEA by contacting us using the details in the 'More information' section below.

The EEA is made up of all member states of the European Union and Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway.

Your rights

You have a number of rights in relation to the information that we hold about you including:

- the right to access information we hold about you and to obtain information about how we process it
- in some circumstances, the right to withdraw your consent to us processing your information, which you can do at any time. We may continue to process your information if we have another legitimate reason for doing so
- in some circumstances, the right to receive certain information you've provided to us in an electronic format and/or request that we send it to a third party
- the right to request that we rectify your information if it's inaccurate or incomplete
- in some circumstances, the right to ask us to delete your information. We may continue to keep your information if we're entitled or required to retain it
- the right to object to, and to request that we restrict, our processing of your information in some circumstances. Again, there may be situations where you object to, or ask us to restrict, our processing of your information but we're entitled to continue processing your information and / or to refuse that request.

You can exercise your rights by contacting us using the details set out in the 'More information' section below. You also have a right to complain to the UK Information Commissioner's Office by visiting ico.org.uk, or to the data protection regulator in the country where you live or work.

Credit reference checks, fraud and money laundering

Credit reference checks

If you apply for new products or services (including credit like a mortgage, personal loan or credit card), we may carry out credit and identity checks on you with one or more credit reference agencies (CRAs). When you use our banking services, we may also make periodic searches at CRAs to manage your account with us.

To do this, we'll supply your personal information to CRAs and they'll give us information about you. This will include information from your credit application and about your financial situation and financial history. CRAs will supply us with both public (including the electoral register) and shared credit information, financial situation, history and fraud prevention information.

We may use this information to:

- assess if we can offer you credit and whether you can afford to take the product you applied for
- verify the accuracy of the data you've provided to us
- prevent criminal activity, fraud and money laundering
- manage your account(s)
- trace and recover debts
- ensure any offers provided to you are appropriate to your circumstances.

We'll continue to exchange information about you with CRAs while you have a relationship with us. We'll also inform the CRAs about your repayment history. If you borrow and do not repay in full and on time, CRAs will record the outstanding debt. This information may be supplied to other organisations by CRAs.

When CRAs receive a search request from us they'll place a search footprint on your credit file that may be seen by other lenders. If you apply for a bank account or credit (such as where you apply for a mortgage, loan or credit card), we'll get details of your credit history from a CRA (and share information about you with the CRA) and use this information to work out how much you can afford to borrow or pay back. We may also carry out further credit checks on you while you're a customer to maintain an accurate and up-to-date record of your credit history. We may use your information to verify the accuracy of the information you've provided to us, prevent criminal activity, fraud and money laundering, manage your account(s), trace and recover debts and ensure any offers provided to you are appropriate to your circumstances.

If you're making a joint application, or tell us that you have a spouse or financial associate, we'll link your records together. You should discuss this with them, and share this information with them before submitting the application. CRAs will also link your records together and these links will remain on your and their files until you or your partner successfully files for a disassociation with the CRAs to break that link.

The identities of the CRAs, their role also as fraud prevention agencies, the data they hold, the ways in which they use and share personal information, data retention periods and your data protection rights with the CRAs are explained in more detail on their websites. They've created a joint document called the Credit Reference Agency Information Notice (CRAIN) which is accessible from each of the three CRAs – clicking on any of these three links will also take you to the same CRAIN document:

- TransUnion – transunion.co.uk/crain
- Equifax – equifax.co.uk/crain
- Experian – experian.co.uk/crain

Credit reference agencies:

To comply with the law and for our own legitimate interest to enable us to assess and manage risk, we can share details about your financial situation and financial history with CRAs, fraud prevention agencies, etc. This includes information on any bank accounts or credit you have with us, including:

- how you manage your bank accounts or credit
- if you owe us money
- if we have concerns about financial crime
- if you haven't kept up with your payments or paid off what you owe us (unless there's a genuine dispute over how much you owe us), or if you've agreed and stuck to a repayment plan.

Fraud prevention agencies

We'll carry out checks with fraud prevention agencies for the purposes of preventing fraud and money laundering, and to verify your identity before we provide products and services to you. These checks require us to process personal information about you.

The personal information you provide or which we've collected from you, or received from third parties, will be used to carry out these checks in order to prevent fraud and money laundering, and to verify your identity.

We'll process personal information, such as your name, address, date of birth, contact details, financial information, employment details, and device identifiers, for example, IP address.

We and fraud prevention agencies may also enable law enforcement agencies to access and use your personal data to detect, investigate and prevent crime.

We process your personal data on the basis that we have a legitimate interest in preventing fraud and money laundering and to verify your identity. This enables us to protect our business and to comply with laws that apply to us. This processing is also a contractual requirement of any of our products or services you use.

Fraud prevention agencies can hold your personal data for different periods of time. If they're concerned about a possible fraud or money laundering risk, your data can be held by them for up to six years.

As part of the processing of your personal data, decisions may be made by automated means. This means we may automatically decide that you pose a fraud or money laundering risk if our processing reveals your behaviour to be consistent with money laundering or known fraudulent conduct, or is inconsistent with your previous submissions, or you appear to have deliberately hidden your true identity.

Consequences of processing

If we, or a fraud prevention agency, have reason to believe there's a fraud or money laundering risk, we may refuse to provide the services and credit you've requested. We may also stop providing existing products and services to you. A record of any fraud or money laundering risk will be kept by the fraud prevention agencies. This may also be used to enhance fraud detection models, and may also result in others refusing to provide services to you. The information we hold about you could make it easier or harder for you to get credit in the future.

To find out more about credit and fraud checks, visit firstdirect.com/credit-scoring or if you'd prefer paper, give us a call using the details on the back of this document and we'll send you a copy in the post. ## What we need from you

You're responsible for making sure the information you give us is accurate and up to date, and you must tell us if anything changes as soon as possible. If you provide information for another person on your account, for example, a joint account holder, a beneficiary under an insurance policy or a dependant, you'll need to tell them how to find this notice and make sure they agree to us using their information as described in it.

How we keep your information secure

We use a range of measures to keep your information safe and secure which may include encryption and other forms of security. We require our staff and any third parties who carry out any work for us to comply with appropriate compliance standards including obligations to protect any information and applying appropriate measures for the use and transfer of information.

More information

If you'd like more details about anything covered in this Privacy Notice, or to contact our Data Protection Officer (DPO), contact us at Customer Service Centre, BX8 1HB, addressed 'for the attention of the DPO'.

This Privacy Notice may be updated from time to time – for the most recent version visit firstdirect.com/privacy

Appendix – How we process your information

We'll use your information for purposes including:

- to deliver our products and services (including insurance)
ie administer your accounts or process your transactions. We'll do this to perform our contract with you
- banking operations support ie to enable the provision and function of our banking services in line with regulation, laws and your rights and interests, for example, complaints management and exit management. The lawful reasons for processing these are our legitimate interest, legal obligation and to perform our contract with you
- to prevent and detect crime including fraud, terrorist financing and money laundering, monitoring, mitigation and risk management, carrying out customer due diligence, name screening, transaction screening and customer risk identification. We do this to comply with our legal obligations and because it's in our legitimate interest. We may share your information with relevant agencies, law enforcement and other third parties where the law allows us to for the purpose of preventing or detecting crime. Additionally we and other financial institutions may take steps to help prevent financial crime and manage risk. We'll do this because we have a legitimate interest, a legal obligation to prevent or detect crime or it's in the public interest. We may be required to use your information to do this, even if you've asked us to stop using your information. That could include (among other things):
  - screening, intercepting and investigating any payments, instructions or communications you send or receive (including drawdown requests and application forms)
  - investigating who you're paying or who's paying you, for example, checks on payments into and out of your account and other parties related to those payments
  - passing information to relevant agencies if we think you've given us false or inaccurate information, or we suspect criminal activity
  - combining the information we have about you with information from other HSBC Group companies to help us better understand any potential risk
  - checking whether the people or organisations you're paying or receiving payments from are who they say they are, and aren't subject to any sanctions.

- risk management: we'll use your information to measure, detect and prevent the likelihood of financial, reputational, legal, compliance or customer risk. This includes credit risk, traded risk, operational risk and insurance risk, for example, for underwriting or claims management purposes). We'll do this because we have a legitimate interest in ensuring that we carry out a proper risk assessment before providing credit, insurance or other finance
- to provide Online and Mobile Banking (and other mobile or online services) we'll use your information to allow us to provide you with access to first direct online platforms and mobile apps (for example the first direct Mobile App):
This includes information you provide to us, directly or indirectly, communicate with us through first direct mobile apps, Online Banking, or when applying for products and services online. The lawful basis for using your information for this purpose is to perform our contract with you or that processing for this purpose is in our legitimate interest
- product and service improvement: we'll analyse your information to identify possible service and product improvements. Where we provide you with aggregated information services, we'll use your information to understand how you use these products which may include your transactional information from other financial institutions to help improve our products and services. The lawful basis for processing your information for this purpose is our legitimate interest. We do this to improve our products and services and to best meet the need of our customers
- data analytics: we'll analyse your information to identify relevant opportunities to promote products and services to existing or potential new customers and to understand how our products and services are used. For example, this may include reviewing historical customer transactional behaviour, comparison of customer activity or it may include an analysis of your transactional information from other financial institutions. We do this to help us provide you with products and services we think will be of most relevance to you. The lawful basis for using your information in this way is our legitimate interest

- marketing: we'll use your information to provide you with information about our products and services, and also products and services from our partners and other relevant third parties. This includes marketing by post, email, phone, text, secure messages, Mobile App, messages within Online Banking, or advertising to you and other people online and on social media. The lawful basis for this is our legitimate interest. We may need your consent to communicate by certain channels and we'll always make sure we get this where we need to. You can change your mind on how you receive marketing messages or choose to stop receiving them at any time by contacting us using the details on the back of this document
- protecting or defending our legal rights: we may need to use your information to protect our legal rights, for example, in the case of defending or the protection of legal rights and interests, for example, collecting money owed, enforcing or protecting our security or defending rights of intellectual property, court action, managing complaints or disputes, in the event of a restructuring of companies or other mergers or acquisition etc. This may be in connection with action taken against you or other persons, for example, joint borrowers or persons who give a guarantee or other security for your obligations to us. The lawful basis for using your information in this way is our legitimate interest.
